

Open Position

Fellow, Monetary Policy (50%-100%)

CEP is an international nonprofit nonpartisan economic policy think tank for sustainability with a focus on fiscal, monetary and trade policy. We formulate and promote economic policy solutions that strengthen individual opportunity, social cohesion and environmental stability.

Our work is driven by the conviction that changes to economic policies are vital for sustainability. Whether governments align fiscal policy with a sustainability agenda, whether central banks integrate social and environmental considerations into their decisions and whether trade agreements account for their effects on climate change, employment and public services has significant ramifications for people and the planet.

We engage on these issues through a portfolio of activities in close collaboration with partners, including central banks, international organizations and other think tanks, around the world. To expand and deepen our reach moving forward, we are seeking a new colleague to join us in our office in Zurich, Switzerland, as a Fellow in our Monetary Policy program (50%-100%). We are flexible in terms of job percentage, i.e. please feel free to apply for either a part-time or a full-time role.

Responsibilities

- Conducting research and engaging in public debates on monetary policy and sustainability.
- Building and deepening partnerships in the field of monetary policy in Switzerland and other regions.
- Communicating research findings and policy recommendations to specialist and non-specialist audiences.
- Organizing and hosting events on monetary policy.
- Supporting the overall development of CEP's monetary policy program.

Profile

- Results-driven and diligent self-starter.
- Strong analytical and writing skills.
- Keen interest in monetary policy. Past work on Swiss economic policy is a plus.
- PhD in economics or finance, or equivalent academic and work experience.
- Fluent in English and German (written and spoken).
- Swiss citizen, EU/EFTA-national or holder of a Swiss work permit.

To apply, please send us a motivation letter and CV to getinvolved@cepweb.org indicating the job percentage you are applying for.

We look forward to hearing from you.
